Everywhere in Eastern Theater of War Slavs Are Advancing and Cracow Is Being Bombarded by Heavy Russian Artillery

LONDON, November 24.—(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)—A decisive turn appears to be taking place in the great battle in Poland between the Vistula and Warthe rivers, and in spite of the fact that Berlin is exulting over a great German victory there, the Russian reports and advices from official and private sources confirm the previous Russian announcements that the Czar's army is inflicting a great defeat upon the German forces.

CZAR ANNOUNCES VICTORY

Yesterday afternoon the Czar, while visiting the wounded in the Tsarkoselo palace, which is being used as a hospital, told the soldiers that he had received news of a Russian victory in the fight on the Vistula and Warthe rivers. While this is taken as unofficial, it is believed the Czar was informed as to the progress of the battle.

GERMANS DRIVEN BACK

The official Petrograd announcement last night says that the fighting in this theater continues, and that throughout the day the Germans were steadily repulsed and driven back. The discovery of a German attempt to turn the left flank of the Russians prompted a change in the disposition of the Czar's troops. Fresh troops were brought into action and the movement was defeated with heavy loss to the Germans.

The advance continues slowly on account of the great numbers of the Germans who are steadily retiring, and who are losing many prisoners.

SLAVS BOMBARD CRACOW

Continuous fighting is in progress along the front from Czenstochowa to Cracow. The Austrian and German forces join on this line. Since the twenty-first 5000 Austrians have been captured and a steady advance has been maintained.

It is unofficially reported that the Russians are now bombarding Cracow and that the city is in flames.

The Times is in receipt of dispatches from Petrograd which say that the Vistula-Warthe victory is confirmed in the Russian capital by private advices.

COMMAND ASSUMED BY GENERAL AGUILAR

Proclamation Fixes Death Penalty for All Crimes, Whether Petty Or Grave

VERA CRUZ, November 24.—(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)—For the first time since April 20 the Mexican flag flew from the custom house here yesterday afternoon, after the American flag had been hauled down and the troops of General Funston withdrawn aboard the transports, now bound for the United States.

General Candido Aguilar assumed charge of the city as soon as General Funston ceased to exercise authority.

DRASTIC ORDERS ISSUED

Aguilar immediately issued a proclamation of the most drastic nature, declaring that he would order the execution of all persons disturbing the peace in any manner, or committing any crimes whatever, grave or small. He ordered the schools to remain closed.

All arms are to be turned in, and all persons, including Americans, found carrying arms will be shot, according to the proclamation.

There has been much looting by the troops of Carranza during the past week.

The indications are that General Blanco is friendly to Villa and will deliver the City of Mexico to him peacefully.

LONDON, November 24.—(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)—Two vessels were lost yesterday by the German navy, one foundering as the result of a collision and one surrendering to save the members of the crew from certain death. The foundered vessel was the destroyer B-124, which collided with the Danish steamer Anglodans.

MOST OF CREW IS SAVED

The first reports received here of this affair stated that the destroyer foundered after the collision and took down with her all the members of the crew, some sixty men. A later report, received from Copenhagen last night, states that most of the crew were saved and taken into a Danish port.

The surrendered vessel is the submarine U-18, the crew of which, with the exception of one sailor drowned, are now British prisoners.

PATROL SHIP RAMS SUBMARINE

According to an announcement by the Admiralty, the U-18 was operating off the north coast of Scotland, when she was observed and run down by one of the British patrol ships. The submarine attempted to escape by submerging, but was not quick enough to escape damage.

An hour after she was rammed, she appeared above the surface, flying the white flag. The destroyer Garry rescued her three officers and twenty-three of her men.

Turks Ransack English Embassy At Constantinople, Pillage Russian Hospital and Outrage Foreigners, While Arabs Conspire

LONDON, November 24.—(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)—There was little change in the situation in France yesterday, no announcement being given out last night by the war office and no later dispatches coming from Paris. The matter of a possible German invasion of England, and plans for dealing with such an attempt were discussed yesterday in the House of Commons. Referring to the expected activity of the German Zeppelins, Winston Churchill announced that on Saturday British aviators made an aerial raid on the Zeppelin factory at Friedrichshaven, on Lake Constance.

BOMBS CRIPPLE FACTORY

He asserted that the aviators seriously damaged the factory by dropping bombs. One of the airmen was shot down and two others returned safely to French soil, although their planes were riddled. Churchill said that considering the length of the flight, the weather conditions, and the daring shown by the aviators, the exploit constitutes "a noble feat of arms." The official announcements yesterday from Paris and Berlin were contradictory, Paris announcing the repulse of the German attacks in the Argonne forest where the Germans report continual progress. BERLIN SAYS 'UNCHANGED' The Berlin announcement says: "The situation in Flanders is unchanged. "In the forest of Argonne we are gaining ground step by step, wrenching one point of support after another from the French and taking prisoners daily." Paris reports officially that: "Yesterday's fighting was characterized by a violent artillery fire, especially near Ypres, Rheims and Soissons. "In the forest of Argonne we have repulsed the enemy's very spirited attacks. "Elsewhere the situation has undergone no material change."

STEAMER HANAIEI WRECKED UPON ROCKS AND MANY PERSONS SEEM TO BE DOOMED

SAN FRANCISCO, November 24.—(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)—The steamship Hanalei, on the freight and passenger run to San Pedro, went on the rocks south of here in a dense fog, last night, and the vessel is breaking up. Two passengers swam ashore, carrying the news that one passenger and one member of the crew were drowned.

Five members of the life-saving crew managed to work their way out to the wrecked steamer to handle the work of rescue from the ship. A mortar gun and crew are being rushed overland from the nearest life-saving station, and an attempt will be made to shoot a line out to the Hanalei.

Twelve ships, notified of the disaster were standing by last night, helpless in the fog, and waiting for dawn. The only hope of rescue is from the shore. Thirty passengers and twenty-eight members of the crew were clinging to the sloping decks of the breaking steamer last night, waiting for the life-line to be sent out to them.

Hanalei Once Plied Hawaiian Waters

The Hanalei was built in Alameda in 1901 for the Inter-Island steamship company and used here for a time. It was later sold to the Independent Steamship Company of San Francisco, remodeled and put in the coast trade. The vessel is a small steamer of about 500 tons displacement.
